MISTAKES IN DEALING WITH MEXICO ADMITTED

The laws against trusts have been clarified by definition, with a view to making it plain that they were not directed against big business, but only against unfair business and the pretence of competition where there was none; and a Trade Commission has been created with powers of guidance and in the wide field of the commerce of the world American business and life and industry have been set free to move as they never moved before. The tariff has been revised, not on the principle of repelling foreign trade, but upon the principle of encouraging it, upon something like a footing of equality with our own in respect of the terms of competition, and a Tariff Board has been created, whose function it will be to keep the relations of American with foreign business and in-

who had gained control of domestic markets and domestic credits; and yet had enacted anti-trust laws which hampered the very things they meant to foster, which were stiff and inelastic, and just unintelligible.

Let Banks Control.

It had permitted the country throughout the long period of its control to stagger from one financial crisis to another under the operation of a national banking law of its own framing which made stringener and panic certain and that ought to have been taken at the outset to open up the resources of Alaska. We have provided for national defence upon a scale never before seriously proposed upon the responsivity of an entire political party. We have driven the tariff lobby from cover and obliged it to substitute solid argument for private influence. This extraordinary recital must sound like a platform, a list of sangune promises; but it is not. It is a going law of its own framing which made stringener and panic certain and the country through th sther under the operation of a national banking law of its own framing which made strongeror and panic certain and the control of the larger business operations of the country by the bankers of a few reserve centres inevitable; and made as if it meant to reform the law, but had faint-heartedly failed in the attempt, because it could not bring theif to do the one thing necessary to make the reform genuine and effectual, amely, break up the control of small groups of bankers.

It had been oblivious, or indifferent, to the fact that the farmers, upon whom the country depends for its food, and in the last analysis for its prosperity, were without standing in the matter of commercial credit, without the protection of standards in their market transactions, and without systems.

Social Justice.

This record must equally astonish those who feared that the Democratic party had not opened its heart to commend the management of the sountry, the great army of men who man the industries it was professing to father and promote, carried their abor as a mere commodity to market, were subject to restraint by novel and fractic process in the courts, were subject to restraint by novel and fractic process in the courts, were subject to restraint by novel and fractic process in the courts, were subject to restraint by novel and fractic process in the courts, were subject to restraint by novel and fractic process in the courts, were subject to restraint by novel and fractic process in the courts, were without assurance of compensation for adaptical accidents, without Federal tentral t

PRESIDENT RECITES ACHIEVEMENTS OF HIS ADMINISTRATION THUS FAR

Following are important points made by President Wilson in his speech at Shadow Lawn yes-

By the Federal Reserve act the supply of currency at the disposal of active business has been made elastic. Effective measures have been taken for the recreation of an American merchant marine.

For the farmers of the country we have virtually created commercial credit by the Federal Reserve act and the Rural Credits act. We have effected the emancipation of the children of the country by releasing them from hurtful labor. We have sought to equalize taxation by means of an equitable income tax.

The working men of America have been given a veritable emancipation by the legal recognition of a man's labor as part of his life and not a mere marketable commodity.

The tariff has been revised not on the principle of repelling foreign trade, but upon the principle of encouraging it.

I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element among us which puts loyalty to any foreign power above loyalty to the United States.

In foreign affairs we have been guided by principles clearly conceived and consistently lived up to.

combinations of men among us who were born under foreign flags injected fire poison of disloyalty into our own most critical affairs, laid violent hands fuse to extend the hand of welcome to upon many of our industries, and subjected us to the shame of divisions of sentiment and purpose in which America was contemned and forgotten. It is apart of the business of this year of reckoning and settlement to speak plainly and act with unmistakable purpose in rebuke of these things, in order that they may be forever hereafter impossible. I am the candidate of a party, but I am above all things else an America was plainly and act with unmistakable purpose in rebuke of these things, in order that they may be forever hereafter impossible. was imperative that we should live up to it if we were to deserve the trust of any real partisan of the right as free men see it. We have professed to believe, and we do believe, that the people of small and weak states have the right to expect to be dealt with exactly as the people of big and powerful states would be. We have acted upon that principle in dealing with the people of Mexico.

Pursuit of Bandits.

Our recent pursuit of bandits into could protect our border from hostile attack and our own people from vo-lence, and we have committed there no single act of hostility or interfer-ence even with the sovereign authority of the Republic of Mexico herself. It was a plain case of the violation of our own sovereignty which could not wait to be vindicated by damages and

The Republican party is just the party that cannot meet the new conditions of a new are. It does not know the way and it does not wish new conditions. It tried to break away from the old leaders and could not. They still select its candidates and dictate its policy, still resist change, still saken and her resources some of the changes its leaders and its purposes and brings its ideas up to date it will have the right to ask the American people to give it power again, but not posses and new ideas.

American Ideals.

In foreign affairs we have been guided by principles clearly conceived and consistently lived up to. Perhaps and their way. All America Watches.

More is involved than the immediate destinies of Mexico and the relations of the United States with a distressed and eistracted people. All America looks on. Test is now being made of us whether we be sincere lovers of popular liberty or not and are indeed to be trusted to respect national sovereignty among our weaker neighbors. We have undertaken these many years to play big brother to the republics of this hemisphere. This is the day of our test whether we mean, or have every made to be trusted to respect national sovereignty among our weaker neighbors. We have undertaken these many pears to play big brother to the republics of this hemisphere. This is the day of our test whether we mean, or have every made in this vital matter, and I call once more, with the deepest earnestness and solicitude, upon the advocates of a careful and provident conservation, on the one henefit wholly or also for theirs. Upon the outcome of that test (its outcome in their minds, not in ours) depends in every relationship of the United States the other, to get together in a spirit h Latin America, whether in politics of genuine accommodation and agreen commerce and enterprise. disturbance of the peace of the world. The effects of war can no longer be confined to the areas of battle. No nation stands wholly spart in interest when the life and interests of all nations are thrown into confusion and peril. If hopeful and generous enterprise is to be renewed, if the healing and helpful arts of life are indeed to be revived when peace comes again, a new atmosphere of justice and friendship must be generated by means the world has never tried before.
